William Wrigley, Jr. of chewing gum and Chicago Cubs fame, purchased The Arizona Biltmore hotel during the Depression, and had the Wrigley Mansion built nearby as a 50th anniversary gift for his wife. It was used only as a winter retreat for several weeks per year, and was one of several homes that they owned.

Wrigley Mansion sits atop a hill in Central Phoenix. It has 24 rooms and 12 bathrooms, as well as 11 unique fireplaces. Valet service is available. Tour lasts approximately 45 to 60 minutes.

Join us for Brunch at the Wrigley Mansion before the tour. This is a separate event with full information on the Desert Adventures calendar.
